

About the BPharm (Hons) Programme

The BPharm (Hons) Programme is a four-year professional undergraduate training encompassing a broad-based curriculum that prepares students for multiple areas of pharmacy specialisation in the future. The programme emphasises evidence-based practice and equips individuals with a dynamic range of skills in preparation to meet the ever-changing challenges faced by healthcare providers today. At the end of the programme the students will be conferred the Bachelor in Pharmacy [BPharm (Hons)] degree.

Our programme will provide students with a broad-based and integrated basic training, which encompasses all aspects of the pharmacy practice, from basic pharmaceutical sciences to its application in the field of clinical pharmacy. Students will learn how to formulate, analyse and manufacture medicines as well as address pharmaceutical care issues related to its clinical use in a patient setting.

The BPharm (Hons) Programme utilises interactive teaching methods and incorporates evidence-based practices in an effort to promote critical thinking and analysis in all its taught disciplines. A strong emphasis is given to building soft skills including basic communication, critical thinking and problem solving skills throughout the programme to prepare future graduates to be team players within a multidisciplinary healthcare system. Our training also places a high importance on developing scientifically competent pharmacists with a part of the programme dedicated to developing basic research training skills in all disciplines of pharmacy.
